Lausanne, April, 18.—The Austrians have advanced with a considerable force from the Valley of Aosta, as far as Mount St. Bernhard; one detachment of these troops has even penetrated into the Valais, and another has made a similar attempt from the side of Mount St. Plou.
The approach of the Austrians has caused an insurrection in the Valais, where several hundred peasants have taken up arms. Yesterday, the troops stationed in this district marched for that quarter.

Their Majesties and the Princesses yesterday attended divine service at St. George's Chapel, Windsor, where they heard a Sermon preached by the Rev. Dr. Hallam, from St. Paul's Epistle to Timothy, iv. 8.

A Courier Extraordinary from Petersburg arrived on the 28th of last month at Berlin, with dispatches from the Emperor Paul, announcing his wish to form a close alliance with his Prussian Majesty. He manifests every day greater coldness for the Coalition.

The same Courier brought intelligence to the King that Paul had given orders to prepare the camp equipage of the Duke D'Angouleme, who is to join the army of the Rhine, at the desire of the Cabinet of Vienna. It is very singular that such a desire should have been expressed by a Court which has decidedly opposed, for two successive years, the appearance of the Count D'Artois, or any of his children, in the armies.

The Court of Petersburg assumed mourning during a fortnight, on account of the death of the French Princess Adelaide, aunt to the unfortunate Louis XVI.

Suworow is said to have been on the 14th of April invested with the Order of St. Hubertus by the Elector of Bavaria; a circumstance which pretty well establishes the fallacy of the report of his having died on the 2d of the preceding month.

The French army of the Rhine is stated in The Monitor to amount to 130,000.

On board the Guillaume Tell, which, as mentioned in our last and in the Gazette, was taken in endeavouring to escape from Malta, were not only all the treasures of Malta, but also a number of Patriots, and several of them had contributed to the surrender of the island to the French. From their attempt to escape, it is supposed that the French garrison is on the eve of capitulating.

The Dutch ship of the line, mentioned in the Gazette of last night to have been seen steering for Yarmouth, is no doubt the same with that announced in our last as captured by the Veteran, of 64 guns, which was sent to look out for her, on information having been received that she purposed to run from Goree to the Texel.

The Batavian Executive Directory, on announcing to the Legislative Body the changes made by Gen. Augereau in the plan for the defence of Holland, stated that they were authorized to place at his disposal all the troops within the Constitutional Circle.

A letter from Kingston, Jamaica, dated the 23d of March last, says, "Mr. Wigglesworth died on the 21st inst. the fourth day after his return from St. Domingo, where he had gone to enforce the Treaty with Toussaint. He had satisfactorily fulfilled his mission; and now there is an uninterrupted communication between St. Domingo and Jamaica. The war continues still between Toussaint's and Rigaud's party. Every thing is here perfectly quiet."

We have received American Papers to the 8th ult. They contain no intelligence of importance. The Senate has ordered its Serjeant at Arms to take into custody William Duane, (Editor of the Aurora), charged with the publication of several libels against that Body. The Lawyers to whom Duane applied to appear at the Bar of the Senate in his behalf, having, for reasons, rather insulting to the Assembly, refused compliance, he wrote a letter on the subject to Mr. Jefferson, in which he expressed his determination "to decline any further voluntary attendance upon that Body, and immediately absconded." The House of Representatives have voted a gold medal to Capt. Truxton, of the American frigate Constellation, for his gallant conduct in the late action between that ship and a French man of war of superior force.

On Thursday last, the Bermondsey Volunteers, commanded by Major Gaitskell, were reviewed on their Parade, at the Spa Gardens, by Lord Onslow, Lord Lieutenant of the county, when the corps went through the several evolutions, with the usual good discipline which has on all occasions so highly distinguished this old and respectable corps, to whom his Lordship paid the most gratifying compliments.—The Gardens and Parade were honoured by the most brilliant assemblage of Ladies and Military Gentlemen, and the extreme favourableness of the weather, greatly contributed to the gaiety of the scene. After exercise, the corps, Lord Onslow, the High Sheriff, and a number of visitors sat down to an elegant dinner, provided by the Honorary Members. The whole was a display of loyalty, hilarity, and pleasure, highly gratifying to every true Briton and lover of his country.

Extract of a Letter from Dublin, May 5.

"This day Mr. Tandy and Harvey Morres were brought up to the King's Bench, under a strong escort of cavalry and infantry.

"Lord Kilwarden, Chief Justice, asked the prisoners if they had any thing to say to the Court.

"Mr. M'Nally, as Counsel for the prisoners, said it was their wish that their trial should be postponed, as requested on a former day on their part by Mr. Curran; that there was an affidavit sworn, by which it appeared Sir James Crawford, his Majesty's Minister at Hamburg, intended coming to this city as a witness on their behalf.

"The Attorney General consented to postpone the trial, when the Court ordered that the prisoners be brought up again this day week in order to be tried, if Sir James Crawford should then appear in Court. The prisoners were remanded."

Friday, at the Public Office in Bow-street, Richard Franklin was put to the bar on a charge of robbing Mrs. Gundry, of Enfield, on the 1st instant, between South Lodge and East Barnet.

Joseph Balaam, in whose custody the prisoner was brought, stated, that he lived near the spot where Mrs. Gundry had been robbed; that his wife saw the robbery, and this day observing the prisoner ride past on horseback, recognised him to be the man, and calling to witness, he pursued him in a small cart, for upwards of a mile and a half, when coming up with him, he pulled him off his horse, and after some struggle secured him; that the pistol and black crape produced he found in the prisoner's pocket; the pistol was not loaded; the crape had two bullets attached to the corners, to make it fall over the face.

W. Jones, footman to Mrs. Gundry, said, that he was with his mistress when she was stopped and robbed in her carriage, on the 1st instant, and that he had no doubt of the prisoner being the man, as the black crape he wore was almost blown off by the wind, and gave him an opportunity of seeing his face.

The prisoner, on being interrogated, said, that he had some years since kept an oil shop in Bow-street (which was remembered by several persons present); that he had since been in the navy, from which he was discharged, on account of bodily infirmities, and that various other circumstances had reduced him to the greatest distress, he denied ever having been guilty of any robbery, though he acknowledged he went out yesterday with an intention of committing one. Detained for further examination, till Mrs. Gundry and the other witnesses can attend.
