JOURNAL OF THE EARLY REPUBLIC

Established in 1981 by the Society for Historians of the Early American Republic, the Journal of the Early Republic is a quarterly magazine devoted to the study of the early national period of the United States.

Articles in the Journal relate to all aspects of the history and culture of the U.S. from 1789 to 1848—economic and political, diplomatic and military, legal and social history, including aspects of cultural, ethnic, religious, and gender history. Other features include book reviews and notices, and listings of recent articles and dissertations related to history during the early republic.

Annual individual subscriptions, which also includes a membership in SHEAR, are $15 for income under $30,000; $25 for income between $30,000 and $40,000; and $30 for income over $40,000. Institutional subscriptions are $40.

Direct submission and subscription inquiries to JER, Department of History, 1358 University Hall, Purdue University, West Lafayette, IN 47907-1358

 Richard L. Blanco
 with Paul J. Sanborn

A CHOICE OUTSTANDING
ACADEMIC BOOK 1994

A LIBRARY JOURNAL
BEST REFERENCE BOOK 1993

"A superb guide....Recommended for all libraries."

—Reference Book Review

More than 700 entries cover battles, campaigns, skirmishes, raids, and massacres, along with more than 400 biographical sketches. There is ample material about Canada, the Spanish in the Southwest, and fighting in the West Indies, European waters, and the Indian Ocean, and little-known military engagements, particularly in the South and on the frontier. Detailed maps illuminate battles and campaigns and a glossary explains the nomenclature. Each entry is followed by a bibliography.
